W h e n in the Course of human events, it becomes necessary for one people to dissolve the political bands which have connected them with another, and to assume among the powers of the earth, the separate and equal station to which the Laws of Nature and of Nature's God entitle them, a decent respect to the opinions of mankind requires that they should declare the causes which impel them to the separation.

We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable Rights, that among these are Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness. That to secure these rights, Governments are instituted among Men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed. That whenever any Form of Government becomes destructive of these ends, it is the Right of the People to alter or to abolish it, and to institute new Government, laying its foundation on such principles and organizing its powers in such form, as to them shall seem most likely to effect their Safety and Happiness. Prudence, indeed, will dictate that Governments long established should not be changed for light and transient causes; and accordingly all experience hath shewn, that mankind are more disposed to suffer, while evils are sufferable, than to right themselves by abolishing the forms to which they are accustomed. But when a long train of abuses and usurpations, pursuing invariably the same Object, evinces a design to reduce them under absolute Despotism, it is their right, it is their duty, to throw off such Government, and to provide new Guards for their future security. Such has been the patient sufferance of these Colonies; and such is now the necessity which constrains them to alter their former Systems of Government. The history of the present King of Great Britain is a history of repeated injuries and usurpations, all having in direct object the establishment of an absolute Tyranny over these States. To prove this, let Facts be submitted to a candid world.

He has refused his Assent to Laws, the most wholesome and necessary for the public good. He has forbidden his Governors to pass Laws of immediate and pressing importance, unless suspended in their operation till his Assent should be obtained; and when so suspended, he has utterly neglected to attend to them.

He has refused to pass other Laws for the accommodation of large districts of people, unless those people would relinquish the right of Representation in the Legislature, a right inestimable to them and formidable to tyrants only.

He has called together legislative bodies at places unusual, uncomfortable, and distant from the depository of their public Records, for the sole purpose of fatiguing them into compliance with his measures.

He has dissolved Representative Houses repeatedly, for opposing with manly firmness his invasions on the rights of the people.

He has refused for a long time, after such dissolutions, to cause others to be elected; whereby the Legislative powers, incapable of Annihilation, have returned to the People at large for their exercise; the State remaining in the meantime exposed to all the dangers of invasion from without, and convulsions within.

He has endeavoured to prevent the population of these States; for that purpose obstructing the Laws for Naturalization of Foreigners; refusing to pass others to encourage their migrations hither, and raising the conditions of new Appropriations of Lands.

He has obstructed the Administration of Justice, by refusing his Assent to Laws for establishing Judiciary powers.

He has made Judges dependent on his Will alone, for the tenure of their offices, and the amount and payment of their salaries.

He has erected a multitude of New Offices, and sent hither swarms of Officers to harass our people, and eat out their substance.

He has kept among us in times of peace, Standing Armies without the Consent of our Legislatures.

He has affected to render the Military independent of and superior to the Civil power.

He has combined with others to subject us to a jurisdiction foreign to our constitution, and unacknowledged by our laws; giving his Assent to their Acts of pretended Legislation: For quartering large bodies of armed troops among us: For protecting them, by a mock Trial, from punishment for any Murders which they should commit on the Inhabitants of these States: For cutting off our Trade with all parts of the world: For imposing Taxes on us without our Consent: For depriving us in many cases, of the benefits of Trial by Jury: For transporting us beyond Seas to be tried for pretended offences: For abolishing the free System of English Laws in a neighbouring Province, establishing therein an Arbitrary government, and enlarging its Boundaries so as to render it at once an example and fit instrument for introducing the same absolute rule into these Colonies: For taking away our Charters, abolishing our most valuable Laws, and altering fundamentally the Forms of our Governments: For suspending our own Legislatures and declaring themselves invested with power to legislate for us in all cases whatsoever.

He has abdicated Government here, by declaring us out of his Protection and waging War against us.

He has plundered our seas, ravaged our Coasts, burnt our towns, and destroyed the lives of our people.

He is at this time transporting large Armies of foreign Mercenaries to complete the works of death, desolation and tyranny, already begun with circumstances of Cruelty & perfidy scarcely paralleled in the most barbarous ages, and totally unworthy the Head of a civilized nation.

He has constrained our fellow Citizens taken Captive on the high Seas to bear Arms against their Country, to become the executioners of their friends and Brethren, or to fall themselves by their Hands.

He has excited domestic insurrections amongst us, and has endeavoured to bring on the inhabitants of our frontiers, the merciless Indian Savages, whose known rule of warfare, is an undistinguished destruction of all ages, sexes and conditions. In every stage of these Oppressions We have Petitioned for Redress in the most humble terms. Our repeated Petitions have been answered only by repeated injury. A Prince, whose character is thus marked by every act which may define a Tyrant, is unfit to be the ruler of a free people. Nor have We been wanting in attention to our British brethren. We have warned them from time to time of attempts by their legislature to extend an unwarrantable jurisdiction over us. We have reminded them of the circumstances of our emigration and settlement here. We have appealed to their native justice and magnanimity, and we have conjured them by the ties of our common kindred to disavow these usurpations, which, would inevitably interrupt our connections and correspondence. They too have been deaf to the voice of justice and of consanguinity. We must, therefore, acquiesce in the necessity which denounces our Separation, and hold them, as we hold the rest of mankind, Enemies in War, in Peace Friends.

WE, THEREFORE, the Representatives of the UNITED STATES of AMERICA, in General Congress, Assembled, appealing to the Supreme Judge of the world for the rectitude of our intentions, do, in the Name, and by Authority of the good People of these Colonies, solemnly publish and declare, That these United Colonies are, and of Right ought to be, FREE and INDEPENDENT STATES; that they are Absolved from all Allegiance to the British Crown, and that all political connection between them and the State of Great Britain, is and ought to be totally dissolved; and that as Free and Independent States, they have full Power to levy War, conclude Peace, contract Alliances, establish Commerce, and to do all other Acts and Things which INDEPENDENT States may of right do. AND for the support of this Declaration, with a firm reliance on the protection of Divine Providence, we mutually pledge to each other our Lives, our Fortunes, and our sacred Honor.

FOLLOWING ITS unveiling last week, "The Wall", an original oil painting by American artist Will Harder, of New Lenox, is closely inspected by the artist (left) and by Brig. Gen. Frederick O. Hartel, commanding general, Berlin Brigade. The painting was on public display at the American Sports Center in Berlin June 28. This week it was shipped to America for exhibition in Washington, D.C. and other American cities. Hartel officiated at the unveiling and commended the artist for his efforts in portraying the cruelty, inhumanity and futility of the wall. (Photo by Stuart M. Alpart)

Unveil New Lenox Artist's Painting Of Berlin Wall

"I can't tear the wall down or knock a hole in it but perhaps thru my painting I can show people of the free world my feelings about the cruelty and futility of this grotesque monstrosity." So spoke Will Harder, New Lenox artist whose painting of "The Wall," was unveiled in West Berlin last week, Brig. Gen. Frederick O.

Hartel, commanding general, Berlin Brigade, officiated at the unveiling and commended Mr. Harder for the patriotic spirit which led to his coming to Berlin to accomplish his painting of "The Wall." Hartel expressed the hope that the painting will be seen and understood by as many Americans as possible after its arrival in the U.S.

The painting was placed on public display at the American Sports Center in Berlin June 23 thru June 28. This week it was to be shipped to the U.S. It is to be shown at Washington, D.C. and other cities, including Nashville, Tenn. Harder, who paid all his own expenses for the four months he has been engaged on the painting, was working under an honorary commission from the South Giles county American Legion Post No. 236, in Tennessee.

He arrived at Berlin in mid February to begin work on the painting. He literally walked holes in his shoes, tramping up and down the length of the wall, talking with people and gaining the knowledge and impressions that have been transferred to this six by fifteen foot representation of man's inhumanity to man.

In the mind and eye of the artist "The Wall" states in clear terms the real meaning and significance of the structure.

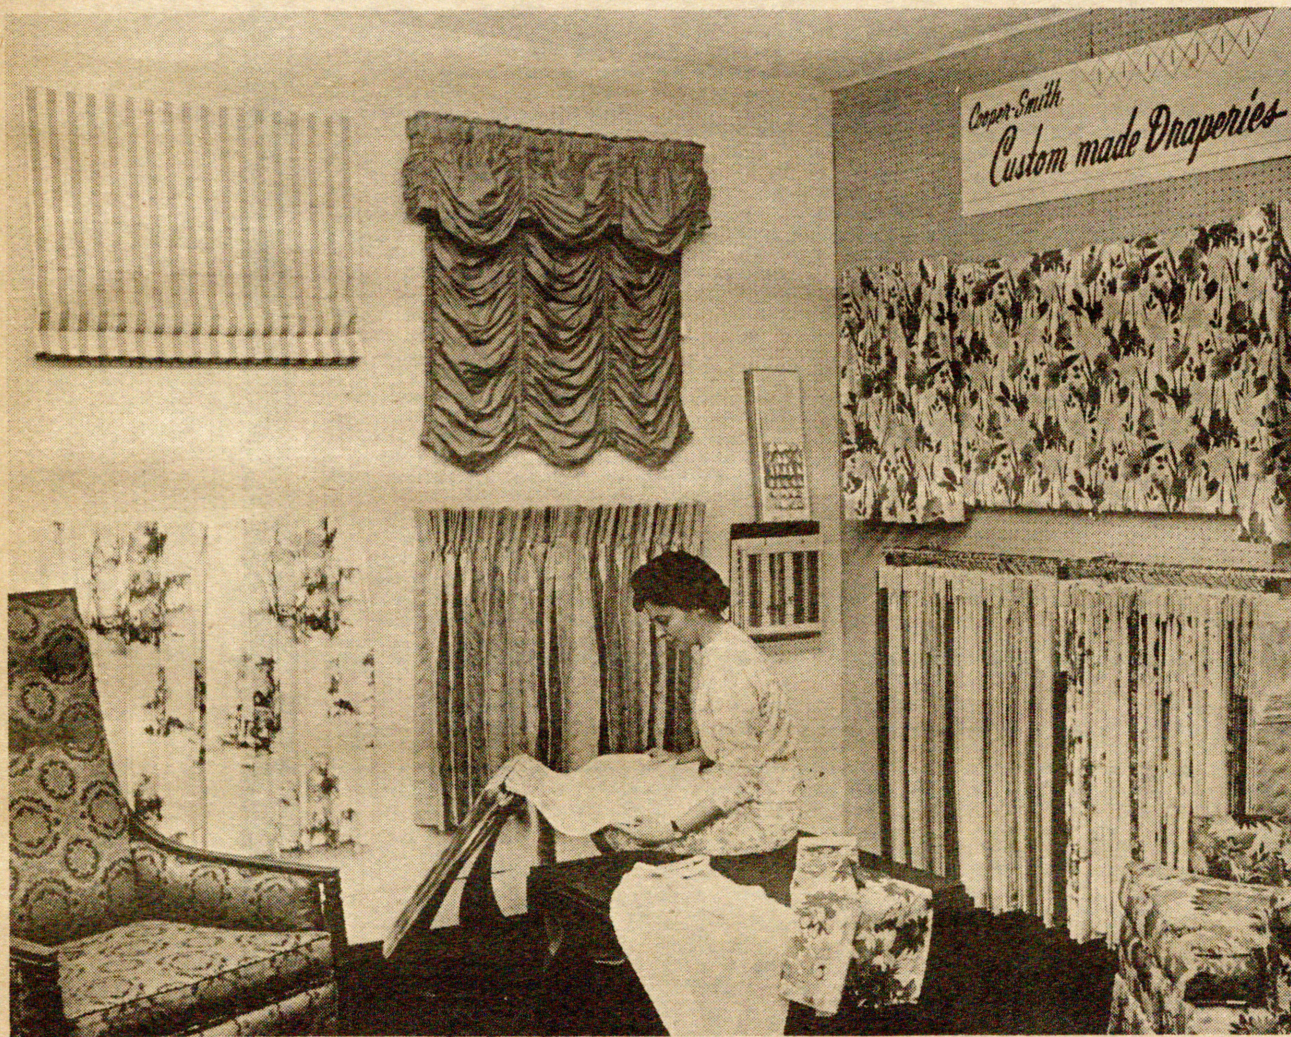

The dark cloud formation at the top of the painting is the artist's concept of the feeling of doubt and uncertainty that exists in the minds of the builders of the wall as well as in the minds and hearts of those whose lives have been disrupted by it. The falling rain symbolizes the tears that have been shed as a result of the wall and the glaring red background depicts the greater Red Wall of the Soviet state extending thru East Germany and encompassing Poland, Hungary and other Eastern European nations. The broken dreams of the past and the shattered hopes of the future are portrayed by the empty gaping foundations and the ruined buildings. The homes are pictured as without windows, without light, cheerless, unhappy places void of all the attributes normally associated with home. The manner in which the wall comes to a severe point in the foreground of the picture is the artist's concept of the way the construction of the wall and what it stands for penetrated western ideologies and the fact that the point of the wall is abruptly severed at the bottom of the painting indicates Harder's feeling that the true extent of the penetration or impact of the wall on the Western world is as yet unknown.

In the right background of the painting is an arch type structure representing a scythe or sickle. This is the symbol of the Soviet might that blinds East Berlin and East Germany, under threat of force, to the Soviet system.

The brilliant amber shaft in the center of the painting depicts the ray of hope that springs eternal, emanating from God and heaven and providing sustenance for the inner man who is illuminated by its light as opposed to the other ghostly figures whose individuality has been subjugated and submerged by the communist system.

Mr. Harder has been painting professionally for the past 10 years. He is looking forward to rejoining his family at 609 S. Pine st., New Lenox. At home are his wife, Ann, a son, James, 12, a son Jesse, 11, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A.J. Harder. A 17-year-old son Bill is serving with the army in Korea and a daughter, Karen, is married to Army Lieut. James Gust, presently assigned at Aberdeen, Md.

Court Awards Rowe Custody Of Children

Lloyd Rowe, 34, Mokena tavernkeeper, cleared last week of any charge in connection with the fatal shooting of his wife, Joyce, 32, May 22, resumed custody of his three children Monday.

The children, ranging in age from three to eight, have been staying with their maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bortkewicz, of Joliet, since the death of their mother. The grandparents had filed a petition in family court, asking they be awarded custody of the children.

Rowe, accompanied by his attorney, August Santoro, of Frankfort, appeared in court Monday to oppose the action. Associate Circuit Judge Stewart Hutchison dismissed the petition, thus giving custody of the youngsters to Rowe.

Award Contract For St. Mary School Addn.

Contract for the building of an addition to St. Mary school of Mokena, has been let to the Robert Regan Construction Co., of Joliet, it was announced by Father Cecil Koop, O.F.M., pastor of the parish.

The addition, which will consist of eight classrooms, an all-purpose room, a teachers lounge and a school office, besides the lobby that will connect the wing with the present school.

Cost of the structure, not including the architect's fee, will be $165,868.

The addition will be placed at the rear and on the east end of the existing building. The new wing will parallel the gymnasium and garage.

Enrollment at St. Mary has been increasing rapidly in the past few years and more space is necessary to accommodate the pupils.

Father Cecil said.

Work on the new addition is scheduled to get underway soon and the schedule calls for completion of the unit by the first of the coming year.

After the shooting of Mrs. Rowe, which took place in the kitchen at the tavern after the place had been closed for the night, the husband was taken into custody. He was held until late last week when the case against him was dismissed by Magistrate Martin Jackson on motion of the state's attorney's office. The action was taken after Rowe had been given a lie test by John Reid, of John Reid and Associates, Chicago. The lie detector, Reid reported to State's Attorney Frank H. Masters, showed that Rowe was telling the truth when he said he had no intention of shooting his wife.

Rowe said they "were clowning" in the kitchen and in the scuffle a pistol was accidentally discharged, the bullet striking Mrs. Rowe in the chin and then taking a downward course into a lung. Rowe said he kept the gun in the cash register and had brought it into the kitchen, along with the cash drawer when he closed up the bar.

Mokena Prepares For Annual Celebration Of The Fourth

The annual Fourth of July picnic, sponsored by the Mokena Chamber of Commerce and the Mokena Lions club, to be held at Community park Saturday afternoon is expected to draw numerous visitors, according to those in charge.

Activities are scheduled to begin at noon. A parade has been organized and is scheduled to move off from the Carpenter Street school grounds promptly at 1:30 o'clock. It is to form at the school at 1:00. According to those in charge there are several floats entered.

The parade will move to the park where various organizations will have booths and numerous attractions. The afternoon program includes games and races for the youngsters and a baseball game. Also on the card will be a waterball fight, staged by the Mokena volunteer fire department, and music.

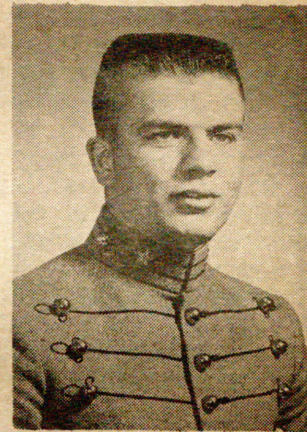

In the evening there is to be a variety show, directed by Norval Robinson and the climax, of course, will be the annual fireworks display to be staged at the park. Refreshment and food stands will be set up at the park so one can picnic, the committee points out, without the necessity of doing a lot of cooking before coming to the park, besides carrying a hamper of food.

Besides the Chamber and the Lions club there are other organizations from the community that will be represented at the various booths in the park, such as the Amvets, the Boy Scouts, the Bank Boosters, the community fire department, Methodist Men's club, St. John Men's club, St. Mary's Altar and Rosary Society, the Standard Oil Co., the Mokena Women's club, the Women's Republican club, and the Mokena post of Veterans of Foreign Wars.

The festivities Saturday will also take on the aspects of a homecoming and many former Mokena residents are expected to appear.

An invitation has been extended to residents of neighboring communities to join in the fun.

CADET PAUL E. MLAKAR, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Mlakar, 141 W. Francis rd., New Lenox, arrived in Germany last Friday, to participate in the U. S. Military Academy's annual army orientation training (AOT) program. During the month-long AOT, the cadets assume the role of platoon leaders or "third lieutenants", to gain practical officer training with combat ready elements of the Seventh U.S. Army. The AOT is one element in West Point's extensive summer training program, providing an opportunity for cadet performance and evaluation under field conditions. Cadet Mlakar, a 1962 graduate of Lincoln-Way high school, is a member of the class of 1966 at West Point.

Explains Family Unit Rule In Water Billing

Sewer and water bills at Mokena are directed to family units, according to ordinance.

The explanation was given by Village Attorney Ronald Galowich after complaints had been received by the village board relative to the billing.

In the opinion of the attorney "a family unit means that any living area, whether it is separated by walls or by doors or whatever, or whether it is in one house, is a unit that contains one family and when more than one family lives in one building and is separated by walls or doors it is to be considered two family units and as such would each receive a separate water and sewer bill for each family unit."

Robert Lambert has been hired for the summer at $2 an hour, to help at the sewage plant and perhaps assist in reading water meters.

Ted Bueschel was hired to serve as a police officer while Chief Roy Newton is on vacation.

Trustee Mueller has resigned from the zoning board of appeals but has been named as secretary of that body.

All adults, 30 years of age or older, are invited to have their chests x-rayed. There will be no charge.

The unit will be at Frankfort July 22, at Mokena, July 23, and at New Lenox, July 24 and 27. The hours will be same in each locality, 1 to 7 p.m.

The Fourth of July will be a holiday for postoffice employees in the area Saturday. There will be no deliveries and in three of the communities. Be Proud To Be An American

The nation celebrates its 188th birthday Saturday.

It was July 4, 1776 that the Declaration of Independence was signed and the world informed that the North American colonies then waging war on England had severed its connections with the mother country.

It was a momentous step, a perilous step. The odds of success were heavy against the colonials and failure would have meant severe punishment for the leaders of the revolution, perhaps even death. So to stand up and be counted, as did the signers of the Declaration and officers and men fighting the British, took a love of country, a firm belief in freedom, and a lot of courage.

We need men and women of courage, with a strong love of country and freedom as much today as when the nation came into being. We need patriots who are willing and ready to stand up and be counted.

There are elements in our society today who would allow our freedoms, our rights, the very Constitution itself, to be tossed into the discard. There are so-called intellectuals, so-called liberals who jeer and sneer at patriotism and belittle the institutions we have always revered. There are people who would exchange their American birthright for a foreign yoke and make abject apology when our government insists that our rights be respected by foreign powers.

It is our belief that the majority of the citizens do have a love of country and do believe in the things on which our nation is founded. But to just hold a belief is not enough. We should so live that this belief is put into action.

We believe in freedom of expression but we do not believe that the mere noise a minority may make should be accepted as the voice of the nation.

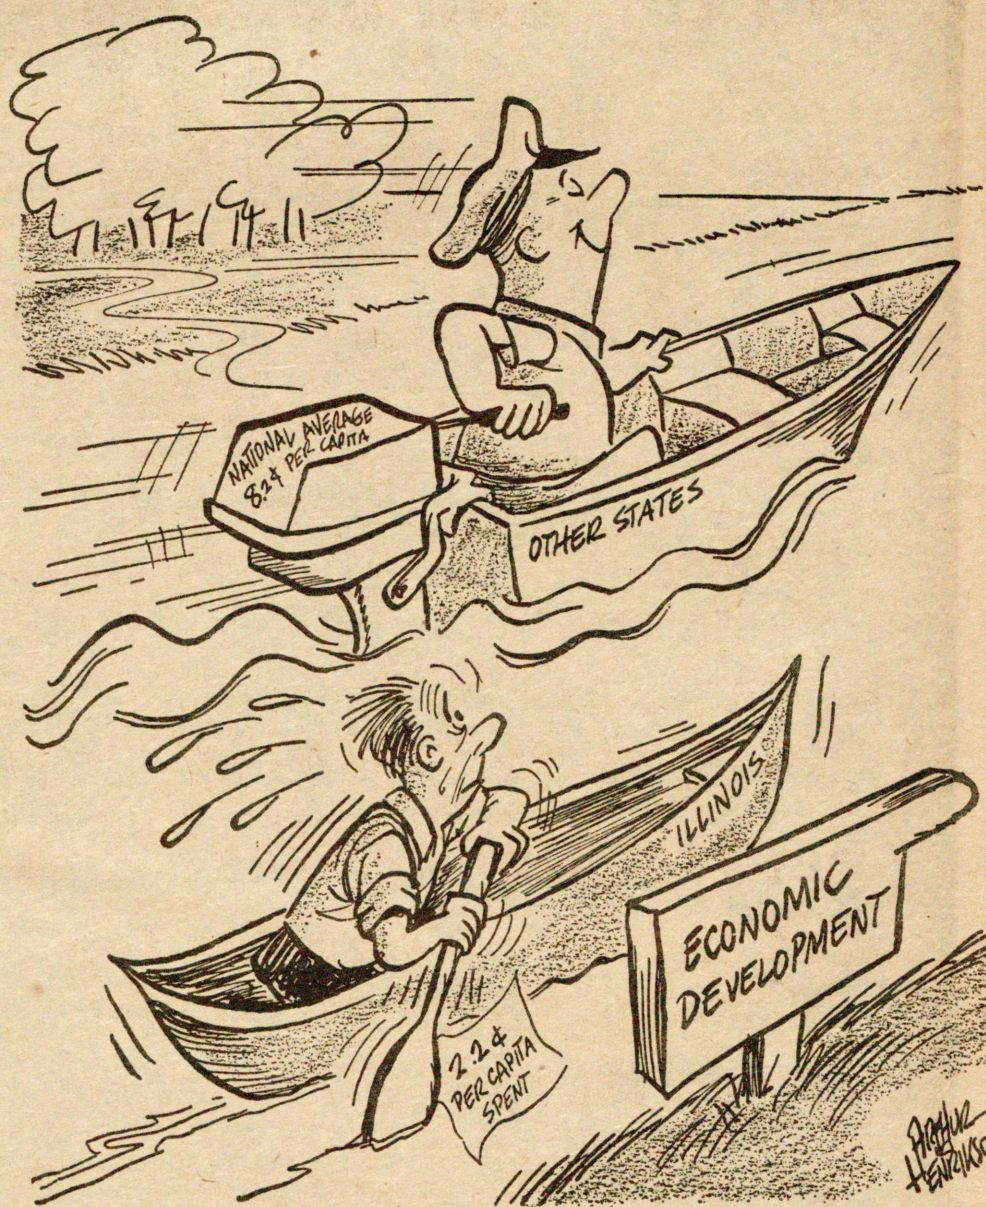

This is a great country, with tremendous resources in men and material. We have shown the world that our form of government is able to survive any trial or trouble but we can't sit down, fold our hands and continue to survive as a republic and uphold our traditions simply on our past reputation.

We must dedicate ourselves again to preserve our principles of freedom and justice and if it is necessary to fight in order to do this then we must be willing and we must be ready.

The world is full of tension and strife. The Communists boast that they will conquer and rule all the earth. When we belittle our form of government, our way of life, and sell our principles short then we are aiding the Communist program.

Be proud to be an American. We have the greatest nation in the world; let us so live and act to keep it that way.

Another Handicap Race

BUSINESS & FINANCE

BY MAURICE P. ANGLAND

Not many days ago the cigarette people seemed likely to be in line for a heavy legal blow that might well have long lasting effects.

The federal trade commission which usually controls the cautioning labels which are part of general labels of products which have been shown, by tests to require cautionary labels, was said, were always clean and clear; the lint stays in the clothes, she stated.

"I still think the principal function of a washer would be to get the dirt out of clothes," Jeff continued, "that elimination of tattle-tale gray is still a first objective just as it was 30 or 40 years ago in the radio commercials."

"MY LANDLADY was ready to concede that it was better to get rid of dirt than lint but if the washer makers promised to remove the lint too she was for holding them to it."

"The makers could equip washers with giants, of course, but the supply of such creatures may be limited and their upkeep must be fearfully high because giants are supposed to be terrific eaters. Heavy giants out of it washer makers could provide each housewife with a scuba diving outfit so she could paddle around in the machine and seine out the lint herself."

"The easiest solution," said Jeff, getting out of his chair preparatory to departure, "is for a housewife to get out her husband's blue serge suit and hang it up over the washer. I'll bet you that in 10 minutes all of the lint in the washer would fly out and settle on the suit. If there is any lint around blue serge will pick it up --- it is great for dandruff too. Well, so long."

about to have rather strong language added to its cigarette labels.

Suggested labels were predicted as being required to state that "smoking may be injurious to your health" and some suggestions went much further than this in their warning of smokers.

As would be expected congressmen and senators from the tobacco producing states are fighting such labels which might seriously injure the use of tobacco. The tobacco industry is very powerful in legislative halls.

The cigarette tax income is an important source of revenue to the federal, state and local governments. In addition, there are thousands of merchants and employees, etc. whose business and income is based on cigarette sales. It would not be easy for governmental bodies to find new revenue sources to replace the cigarette revenue.

The efforts of a sizeable portion of the medical profession and populace, will continue to fight for controls which will at least cause large scale abstinence from cigarettes. It is being fought hard by powerful forces desiring delays in imposition of warning labels which must certainly curtail sales, thru constant repetition of the warnings.

Many analysts are of the opinion that regardless of tests with results not favorable to use of cigarettes, the congress will not permit serious attacks on cigarettes thru the federal trade commission control of labels or advertising claims.

The tobacco stocks have been attracting some investors who like the better than average yield to brave the dangers of controls, which will harm the cigarette sales.

OILS
Some of the leasing investment advisors express the opinion that to be well diversified, and investment portfolio should include an important stake in the petroleum industry. They believe that in the past, the oils have been very kind to their investors both as to current income and appreciation.

It is pointed out that the earning power of all basic industry is mainly based on price structure.

Price returns on crude oil and products are being influenced by results of petrochemical activities which are growing in importance, but crude oil results are the guide to analysis of whole industry results. Various of the petroleum producers are better balanced than others.

As to the foreign market, we recently heard that Russia was entering the western European market in an important way and would be an even more important factor in Western European markets as soon as the Soviets could find a source for large pipe needed to transport the oil.

Many countries, including the U.S.A., refused export licenses to manufacturers wanting to sell such pipe on the basis that petroleum sales were being used by Russia as a source of military power.

Sweden is now reported to be making arrangements to sell the desired pipe.

Further study of the Russian crude oil situation indicated that petroleum of Russian origin, often has quality limitations and buyer specifications are often not met. This condition has a seriously limited factor on the markets which can accept this grade of oil. To refine or bring up to particular standards, adds to costs substantially.

JEFFERSON P. THROTTLEBOTTOM, champion freeloader, dropped in at the office the other day to pick up a supply of cigars, pipe tobacco and anything else not too hot or too heavy to carry, and take advantage of the fact that the day was hot and the office is air conditioned.

In the course of conversation the subject of television came up, producing quite a flow of words from Jeff. Sometimes he's critical of TV fare but he was in a tolerant mood this day. If anyone didn't want to look at re-runs of programs going back over the past several seasons, watch baseball games, or old old, old films, Jeff declared, why, all one had to do was flick the switch and shut the set off. It was possible that congress or some government bureau will make it compulsory to watch TV, he conceded, but thank heaven, things hadn't reached that stage yet.

Jeff appeared to be more taken up with commercials than with the so-called entertainment portions of the medium.

"Some of the commercials are quite enjoyable," Jeff declared, "They lift you up. After watching how some of these people perform you feel that you too could be a success. For myself," he went on, "I am not a mechanic, so it makes me good to see a guy who is not a mechanic either, con this housewife who is having washing machine trouble into believing that all of them will be solved if she just uses the right detergent.

"YOU HAVE SEEN that commercial I know. The washer has stopped and the housewife has sent for a service man. This guy comes in, opens the door of the washer and without even looking inside the contraption -- but keeping his face full view to the camera -- he immediately diagnoses the ailment. Too many suds, he says. -- 'Here,' he says, and out of the air or his hip pocket he produces a great dang big box of a detergent that is guaranteed to clean clothes without making suds. According to this man suds are the only thing that will clog a washing machine."

"The best magic act, however," Jeff went on, "is the Giant in the washing machine. Everyone must be familiar with that commercial. A couple of women are shown standing alongside a washer discussing the merits of a certain detergent, when all of a sudden you notice that the top of the washer is open so you can see the water sloshing about and out of his swirling water pops this great hand and arm.

"Such a sight," said Jeff, "would be rather unnerving to me but these women don't pay it too much mind. The one who owns the washer apparently is used to seeing this hand but even the visitor registers only mild surprise."

"My goodness," she says, or words to that effect, "is this standard equipment with this washer?"

"The hostess says it is indeed, providing one uses such -- and such detergent, the idea being that such-and-such does a giant job."

"The first time I saw it I thought maybe that guy I was talking about, the fix-it man turned salesman for sudsless soap, had finally fallen in one of those washers he was always called to look at and the next sequence would hold a thrilling rescue scene. But it seems they are two different people."

"AFTER LISTENING to my landlady sounding off yesterday on her laundering problems, however, I think the people who own this Giant could make a very good thing of it by putting him to work. All I have ever seen him do is push his fist up thru the water and wriggle his fingers. I would suggest to his employers that as long as they have him down inside that washing machine anyway that he might just as well be picking lint out of the water."

"I didn't know lint was a problem," Jeff declared, "until I heard my landlady complaining that when she did her laundry she never had to worry about cleaning out the lint traps in the washer. The lint traps she

Courtyard Players Open 2nd Play Of Year Tonight

The peaceful, wooded setting of the Palos Park Village Courtyard, 123rd and 81st ave., will give way on Thursday, July 2 thru Sunday, July 5 to the glamor and sham of Hollywood, when the Village Courtyard Players present Clifford Odet's drama "The Big Knife".

This is the second of three plays presented by the Courtyard group in their Theater Under the Stars series, a summer program of concerts, musicals and plays. Curtain time for all programs is 8:30. All profits from the series will go to the Palos Park Service League.

The play is directed by Miss Millie Stergis, Chicago, who has been active in several southwest side groups in the past few years. She has directed for the Morgan Park Junior Woman's club and the Castle Players and appeared recently at the Theatre on the Lake as Dolly Levi in "The Matchmaker".

LWW Backs Plan To Unify Coorectional Department

Need for a unified correctional department to serve both county and Chicago was the decision reached June 25 by the Cook county department of corrections commission. Final action of this economy and coordinating measure, which the League of Women Voters have urged adopted, rests with the state legislature.

Mrs. Albert Crewe, 63 Old Creek Road, Palos Park, president of the Palos-Orland League of Women Voters said, "our league is one of 32 leagues in Cook county which has taken a firm stand in favor of this measure, after two years of study."

Both the LWW and other civic organizations had sponsored the legislation which created the department of corrections commission. The commission had heard extensive debate and testimony before voting the approval of the recommended unified department.

"We, as a league, recently voted to continue our study of family court, shelter care and detention of juveniles and measures to improve correctional procedures in Cook county, Mrs. Crewe stated. Details of our study are available to any interested persons, and we are planning several programs on these subjects during the coming year."

more for reading and not just always seeing.

Reading books can be very interesting if one has the desire to read. Many interesting facts of life may be learned from reading books, culture of other lands, unknown knowledge, home-steads of our ancestors, historical events, and self knowledge are just some of the many open opportunities in literature in books.

Each human being is different. We all have different ideas, beliefs and interests. The category that books cover is very broad. In this way each and everyone of us may find a subject that appeals to him. For example, there is fiction for one who likes to place himself in an imaginary world. Non fiction is for those who are more serious minded. Travel is interesting for those who have dreams of seeing the four corners of the world. Humor is for laughter.

Have you ever stopped to think how our schools would impress ideas to students if books didn't exist? How would we know the ways the cavemen put their ideas to use, how would we know the Sphinx was one of the Seven Wonders of the World, or where else would we collect such a detailed description of the dropping of the A bombs on Hiroshima.

These are but a few of the reasons I consider reading a great advantage, not only for the present but for the future that lies ahead of us.

Books are always at our finger tips, all one has to do is to lift a hand to obtain one.

BY JOYCE STEPHENS
(8th grade, St. Mary's school)

Reading is a road to education. When we are reading we are learning. Books, magazines, and other publications provide information. For centuries men have been improving our world with information obtained from books. When new ideas or inventions are discovered they will not be forgotten because of books. Distinguished men will live forever in books.

All that is necessary to learn is to find a good book and start reading. Now we may say, "There are many kinds of books. What should we read?" There are biographies, adventure stories, books about distant lands, and many other kinds. If we want to enjoy ourselves there are many fictional books we can read. Encyclopedias are filled with formation. The more and better books we read the more we will learn. I am sure that if you read good books you will be a happy, well-informed person.

from A to Z?

Books are all this and more. Books provide us with amusement as well as food for a person's mind who is interested in learning these secrets of science, and about the world. Yes books can surely be considered one of man's best friends. But we should be careful what we read because the wrong books can also be one of man's worst enemies.

So read, you'll be strengthening your own mind.

Annual Civic Association Gives Prizes At Picnic

The Arbury Hills Civic Association held their fourth annual family picnic at the Mokena Community Park Sunday, June 21. It was an all day affair, and well attended in spite of the morning thunderstorm.

There were the usual quota of children's and adult's games and races for which there were small token prizes awarded to the winners.

In addition there were twist contests for both the teenagers and the adults. There were first and second prize ribbons awarded for both age groups.

Following the dance contests there was open dancing in the pavillion. A variety of music was played to please the oldsters as well as the youngsters.

To conclude the festivities for the day special prizes were awarded. A set of TV tray tables with a carrying rack was given to Mr. and Mrs. Richard Schwarz of 9423 Willow Lane. There were also two other special prizes given out; a barbeque grill to Mr. and Mrs. Jim Muccio of 9320 West Magnolia, and two lawn chairs to Mr. and Mrs. Richard Temczak of 9403 Ash Avenue.

The Arbury Hills Baby Sitters Cooperative had its secretary book change hands yesterday from Mrs. Richard Heim to Mrs. Edward Hovi. Mrs. Hovi will have the book for the month of July. Any member needing a baby sitter should contact Mrs. Hovi at 479-5740 at least 24 hours in advance of the date needed.

There will be NO First Nighters meeting for July. The next meeting of the group will take place at the home of Mrs. Rose Menzer 19351 S. Oak Street on Thursday evening, Aug. 6, at 8 p.m.

Summit Hill Boy Scout Troop No. 10 will hold its regular monthly newspaper drive next Saturday morning, July 11, since the first Saturday in July is a holiday.

Anyone who has newspapers or magazines to contribute to the collection is asked to have their donation bundled in some manner and placed either at the front door or at the garage door, NOT at the curb, since it might interfere with the garbage collection which also takes place on Saturday morning. The donations should be ready before 9 a.m.

The Boy Scouts will be going for scout's outing at the Rainbow Council Camp near Morris, Ill. Aug. 2-8.

Gwyn Cook, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Cook of 9424 Pine ave., celebrated her ninth birthday with a barbeque birthday party which included six of her friends from school. Additionally there were four from Arbury Hills; Marcella Helm, Diane Gunty, Cathy Tanis, and Nancy Dickerson.

They had a barbeque luncheon followed by cake and ice cream. The party took place on Wednesday, June 10.

The farm team of the Arbury Hills Boys Baseball

League finally was able to complete the game against the Mokena Boys team. The first attempt Tuesday, June 16, ended in a nine to nine draw when darkness interfered. A second try was made on that Friday, June 19. We all know that happened that night. It is hard to play baseball from row boats.

The third time was the charm. The game was played again Monday, June 22. This time the cheers rang out from Arbury Hills.

Our little boys won 15 to 12.

The July 19th storm saw sections of six roofs torn off in several parts of the area. In addition an assortment of trees and tree branches were sent flying. Television antennas also saw much destruction. Fortunately property damage is repairable.

Two days later, on Sunday morning, a lesser storm struck in which an electric pole between Birch avenue and Hickory street was hit by lightning leaving half of the block without electricity from 8 a.m. until 5:30 p.m.

Mrs. William Roach was recently installed as president of the St. Mary Altar and Rosary Society. The installation took place at the Prestwick Country Club Thursday evening, June 24.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hulett, Bonnie and Joe to their friends, of 19553 South Beechnut Drive became the parents of their third son on Father's Day, June 21, at the Silver Cross hospital, Joliet.

Timothy Allen Hulett weighed an even eight pounds at birth, and joined his two older brothers, Nicky who is six and Jeffrey who is four, upon leaving the hospital.

Orland Park Board Adopts Appropriation Ordinance

The Orland Park village board has adopted its annual appropriation ordinance which provides for expenditures of $444,380.63 in the current fiscal year.

The village does not expect to have that kind of money to spend but Village Attorney Raymond Pieper pointed out that in the event funds did become available for certain items they could be purchased. Money cannot be spent for anything for which no appropriation is made. Because of that appropriation ordinances always call for larger sums than are expected to materialize.

Of the total in this year's measure $196,525 is earmarked for general government; the police department total is $39,200, and for the fire department, $17,600 of which $10,000 is listed for new equipment.

The figure for garbage collection is $25,000 and $3,000 for civil defense.

Appropriated for water works bonds, principle and interest, is $4,715; for sewer bonds, principal and interest, $8,403.13 and principal and interest on water and sewer revenue bonds is $20,712.50.

Total appropriation for the public library is $6,825, of which $2,500 is earmarked for new books; $900 for equipment and $440 for re-binding books.

However, it is expected that taxes will remain about the same as last year, perhaps a cent or cent and a fraction higher per $100 of equalized assessed valuation, it was stated.

Bond payments are somewhat less.

The ordinance appears in full on another page in this newspaper.

It is anticipated that real estate taxes will bring in about $24,000, it was said, and a like amount should be derived from the village's share of the state sales tax. The village also will receive money from the state motor fuel tax fund. License and permit fees also add to the village revenue.

May Decide Soon On Planning Question

The question of hiring a planning firm to draft a community growth and use plan for the New Lenox area may be decided at the next meeting of the village board.

Several weeks ago the board interviewed representatives of two planning firms and later received their proposals. The cost could range up to around $15,000, it was pointed out, with the state and federal people taking a big slice of it thru grants. State and federal bureaus are pushing municipalities to plan their growth and make the suggestion attractive with grants, it was explained.

The New Lenox board members, however, wanted something more definite from the two planning firms and asked them to submit letters specifying what they intended to do, for how much.

Since then the board has asked for proposals from a couple of other planners. One didn't answer and the other didn't have time to make a proposal before the meeting last Friday. By the time the board meets again, it was said, this third firm may have a proposition ready for consideration.

A committee is to go over these reports and if necessary call the planners for additional information with the idea of arriving at a recommendation for the board to consider at its next meeting.

About a month ago a proposal was made before the board to change the meeting night from the third Friday to another night but no other night could be found that was satisfactory, so indications are that the council will continue to meet on Fridays.

Trustee Wilbur Thackrey was authorized by the board to go ahead with plans for the improving of Ogden ave. at the south end of the village. The job would come under the motor fuel tax program. The estimated cost was about $3,400.

William Bolkar, a builder, was advised informally that the board would be willing to adopt an ordinance annexing six acres of land he owns off Cedar road, when it is submitted formally.

Lorenz Asks Motorists To Refrain From Using Roads As Refuse Dump

Illinois director of public works and buildings has appealed to motorists to help keep state highways clean especially with the advent of the summer vacation season.

Director Francis S. Lorenz, whose department is responsible for cleaning and maintaining 15,774 miles of paved highway said:

"On one-six mile stretch of right-of-way, our maintenance crews removed six truckloads of beer cans alone, not to speak of the other kinds of debris thrown from moving vehicles."

Broken beer bottles are hard on tires, it was pointed out, and garbage is unsightly.

"The automobile driver can be of real assistance by refraining from using our state highways as a dumping ground for all kinds of trash."

Lorenz stated his department spent $2,889,331 downstate and $526,994 in Cook county to remove 6,100 tons of dirt, debris, and storm damage in 1963. The total amount of $3,416,325 represented more than 10 per cent of the department's annual maintenance budget of $32 million.

In 1962, Lorenz observed his department spent 14 cents a ton to remove 1,800 tons of material. Since

See Tighter Control Over Home Building

Tighter control over building operations in New Lenox was indicated by the village board at its meeting last Friday night and further discussion of the subject is scheduled for the next session.

There have been instances, it was brought out, where persons neglected to apply for permits until the work was well along.

The building permit fee is quite reasonable, it was pointed out, running $16 for the average home. At Orland Park for instance, the average building permit fee for a home is $125 but that includes a water meter installed.

Methodists Will Elect New Bishops

Thirty delegates from the Rock River Conference will attend the jurisdictional conference of the Methodist Church at Cleveland July 8-12. Three and possibly four new bishops will be elected for the nine-state jurisdiction, a new bishop will be assigned to the Chicago area, and the jurisdiction will probably vote to receive the transfer of the Lexington (Negro) Conference into its boundaries and with it, the newly-elected Central Jurisdiction bishop, James S. Thomas. The Central Jurisdiction has temporarily designated Chicago as Bishop Thomas' headquarters instead of St. Louis, where his predecessor, Bishop Matthew W. Clair, Jr., resided. At Cleveland he will be assigned somewhere within the jurisdiction.

Retiring at the conclusion of the Cleveland conference will be Bishops Charles W. Brashares of Chicago, Edwin E. Voigt of Springfield, Ill., and Marshall R. Reed of Detroit. Reassignment of Bishop Hazen G. Werner of Ohio by the Council of Bishops has created a fourth vacancy in the jurisdiction.

then, the removal cost has decreased to 10 cents a ton.

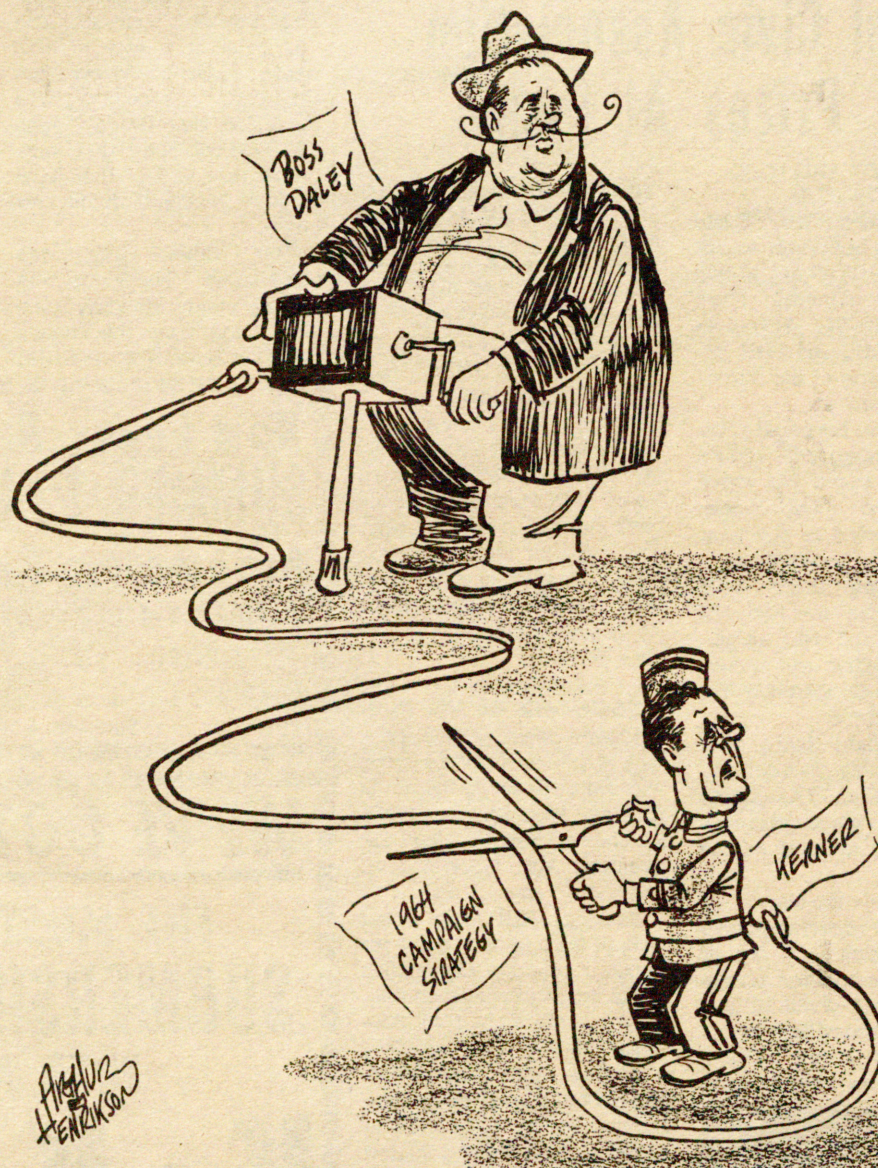

"But," Lorenz asserted, "roughly three - and - a half times as much debris was picked up in 1963 over the previous year. Our concern is that even with all the publicity given to littering we have a marked increase before us."

The department employs about 3,205 regular maintenance men.

Directing his attention to traffic safety, Lorenz asked all motorists to watch out for road crews now that the highway construction season is at hand throughout Illinois.

"Frequently, one lane of traffic has to be temporarily closed during repair work," Lorenz said. "As a safety measure, all of our flagmen on such jobs are required to wear orange vests to distinguish them from other construction crew members."

I'm On My Way Now!

Un. Pac, Rock Is. Agree On Stock Trade

Managements of the Rock Island and Union Pacific railroads agreed on a new and improved offer to Rock Island stockholders to bring about combination of the two companies by control or merger, spokesmen for the two railroads have announced.

Under the new plan, Union Pacific will offer to exchange shares of a new $1.80 convertible preferred stock on a 1-for-1 basis to holders of Rock Island common stock and will also pledge a cash dividend guaranty to Rock Island shareholders who assent to the exchange offer that will give them an assured return of $1.80 per share for three years from date of exchange offer.

The new $1.80 convertible preferred will be callable at $45 per share, but only after the first five years. Following the sixth year, the call price will scale down $1 each year to $40 per share in the eleventh year and afterward. Each share of the new convertible preferred will have full voting rights and will be convertible at any time, at the option of the holder, into .85 of a share of Union Pacific common stock.

The new exchange offer which will be recommended by the board of directors of the Rock Island to its stockholders, will be subject to approval by the Interstate commerce commission.

Under the cash dividend guaranty, which will run from the date of the exchange offer, Union Pacific will guarantee to pay, to each assenting Rock Island holder upon consummation of the exchange, cash equivalent to the difference between the proposed dividends on the new convertible preferred, at the rate of $1.80 annually, and any dividends paid on Rock Island common during the 3-year period from the date of the exchange offer. If Rock Island common stock dividends remain at the current level of $1.00 per year this means that Union Pacific will add an additional 80 cents in each year for three years prior to consummation of the exchange, this sum being set aside and payable to assenting Rock Island stockholders, at the time the transaction is completed.

The exchange offer will be open to all Rock Island stockholders and will become binding upon Union Pacific when one-third of Rock Island shares assent. If two-thirds assent the offer will be consummated by merger. In the opinion of Union Pacific the exchange of stocks will be tax-free if the exchange offer is consummated by merger, but any cash paid under the dividend guarantee will be taxable.

The exchange offer contemplates that a group of security dealers will be formed to solicit assents from Rock Island stockholders on a fee basis.

Rock Island's directors who met with Union Pacific representatives expressed themselves as being gratified by the improved offer which takes into account changed market and earnings prospects. Both groups termed the one-for-one offer of the new preferred as a "substantial improvement," stressing that the new preferred stock is backed by the long-established earning power of Union Pacific.

Rock Island's representatives stated that, as a result of the new proposal, the meeting of Rock Island stockholders which had been called for July 17 to consider the Plan and Agreement of Merger dated June 27, 1963, will be cancelled.

Assembly Session Costs $105,806

Michael J. Howlett, state auditor of public accounts, has published a statement of expenses of the special session of the 73rd Illinois general assembly, which convened Jan. 6, 1964, and adjourned Jan. 28.

The total expenditure was $105,806.42.

Legislators are paid no extra salary for a special session. However, they receive $50 per session for incidental expenses and 10 cents a mile for one round trip per week between their homes and Springfield.

Mileage and incidental expenses of the legislators totaled $41,980.80. Senate employees engaged on a per diem basis were paid $17,998.00, and house of representatives per diem employees $28,082. Officers of the senate were paid $2,625.00, and officers of the house $1,828.50.

Other expenses included incidentals, stationery, printing and office supplies.

Copies of the itemized statement of expenses may be obtained by writing to the Public Relations Office, Auditor of Public Accounts, 201 Statehouse, Springfield.

WELL PERMIT

A permit to drill a well at 1311 E. 94th ave., Orland township, by Walter and Raymond Beagley of the same address, has been issued by Cook county. The value of the well was given as $750.

There'd be fewer broken homes if more people did things together like us, Helen."

Hands Out Forms To List Tax Exempt Real Estate

County Assessor P. J. Cullerton has distributed the official form to be used by the owners of exempt property in filing their annual affidavit.

House Bill No. 1385 passed by the general assembly in its 73rd session requires the owner of the beneficial interest of any property exempt from taxation to file with the county assessor on or before Jan. 31 of each year a certificate to the effect that there has been no change in the ownership or use of such property since the time an exemption was granted.

This bill was proposed and presented to the legislature by Assessor Cullerton to permit tightening of the control over exemptions. There are almost 40 thousand exempt parcels in Cook county (out of a total of one million two hundred thousand) and it has become a physical impossibility to maintain an up-to-date roster of status without the assistance of some system of self-disclosure. It was stated, House Bill No. 1385 imposes a self-reporting burden upon the owners of such property.

The first such affidavit will be due on or before Jan. 31, 1965, to cover the status of each item of property as of January 1, 1965. In anticipation of property owners' desire to begin the listing of properties, the form is being distributed currently. The assessor will advise all governmental units in Cook county of the necessity of filing this affidavit and will also advise those other owners of exempt property which come to his attention. The assessor wishes to make it clear, however, that he cannot assume the responsibility to personally advise all such owners because the ownership of exempt parcels is not included as part of the assessment records.

THIS DELUGE SHOULD BE STOPPED

Paper Niagara

Businessmen today are probably more concerned with a paperwork explosion than the dropping of a bomb.

There is a very good reason for this seemingly strange type of fear. The amount of paperwork demanded of business and industrial companies by the federal government has grown to such monstrous proportions that it has added heavily, and unfairly, to the cost of their operations.

A particular case -- but by no means an isolated one -- was cited by Rep. Arnold Olsen (D. Mont.), chairman of the House Subcommittee on Census and Government Statistics to show how unbelievably onerous is the paper workload imposed by governmental decree.

In a single year, Rep. Olsen said, a midwest manufacturing concern was compelled to handle 173 different federal forms

WHICH INVOLVED THE FILING OF 37,683 REPORTS. Some had to be submitted daily, others weekly, monthly and annually. The workload amounted to 48,285 man hours, a very costly procedure in view of the fact that this work was completely non-productive as far as sales were concerned.

Two other examples are also noteworthy. A mail-order company reported it was required to fill out and file more than 500,000 forms and reports with assorted governmental agencies and a savings and loan society said that its 600 member associations had to file a grand total of 5,300,000 forms in one year.

If this onslaught of compulsory governmental paper work is allowed to go unchecked the time could come when businessmen will be so occupied with filing reports that they won't have time to do any business.

Will County Septic Tank Cleaners Must Have Permits

Dr. William J. Cassel, Jr., health officer for the Will County Health Department, today cautioned the public to hire only those septic tank cleaners who have been permitted by the health department.

The permit which is displayed on each truck contains the letters "WCHD" and a permit number.

Permits for septic tank cleaners is part of the health department's stepped up program to increase the level of sanitation in Will county. This particular part became effective March 1, 1964, under the sewage ordinance adopted by the county board of supervisors on Aug. 5, 1963.

James C. Barringer, sanitary engineer for the health department, stated that one of the purposes of this enforcement program was to regulate where the cleaning trucks discharged their waste. The ordinance requires that they use only approved municipal sewage treatment facilities which eliminate the health hazard and nuisance caused by waste of this type being discharged directly into streams or on open fields.

The ordinance also provides that each septic tank cleaning firm be bonded. This protects the individual who has his septic system damaged thru faulty workmanship. If such damage occurs or an unsatisfactory job is done, the health department should be contacted. The cleaning, maintaining, or servicing of septic tanks, seepage pits, ground absorption systems, or cesspools other than by a permitted operator is in direct violation of the county ordinance and subject to severe penalties. In addition, those contacted by a septic tank cleaner who does not have a permit, are asked to notify the health department giving the firm's name, address, and state truck license number.

Dr. Cassel requests the help of all county residents by contacting the health department should they detect a septic tank cleaning truck dumping septic tank waste into a stream, a roadside ditch, or directly on the surface of the ground.

Freed On Bond In Theft Case

Arrested last Friday on a theft charge in conjunction with the burglary of the Mokena Veteran of Foreign Wars club rooms on Wolf road last Thursday night, Tony Dina, Jr., 23, was locked up in the county jail. On Saturday he was released on bonds of $500 and his case continued by Magistrate Martin Jackson in Joliet until July 7.

In the burglary at the VFW hall $58.15 in cash and approximately $50 worth of liquor and cigarettes were taken according to the report of Mokena Police Chief Roy Newton and Lt. John Shelly and Deputy Walter Muehler of the Will county police, who investigated the case.

The officers learned Friday that young Dina had been attempting to sell some liquor and picked him up for questioning. Later, it was reported, he led them to where he had the loot concealed. Most of it was recovered, police said.

"If it doesn't have electric heat it's not a modern apartment," —says Mr. Thomas Burbulis of Thomas Realty, 1784 Oakton Street, Des Plaines, builder of the 36-unit Malibu Apartments.

"Budget payments of $14 a month (slightly more for the largest apartments) pay total electric bill, including heating, ventilating and cooling, at my luxurious Malibu Apartments."

Mr. Burbulis is typical of today's well-informed builders who have their facts straight about electric heat . . . and wouldn't use anything else. He speaks from experience, having built and operated 9 electrically heated apartment buildings.

He knows that electric heat is today's great improvement in living comfort, the one thing that will keep a new apartment modern for years to come.

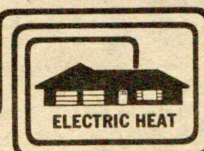

Mr. Burbulis also debunks the idea that "electric heat costs too much". He knows it doesn't, and he has the figures to prove it. What's more, electric heat is getting to be a better buy all the time . . . rates today are 50% lower than they were in 1958!

The beautiful Malibu Apartments is further proof that, with up-to-date builders all over Northern Illinois, there's just no substitute for all the advantages of electric heat . . . the only really modern heat.

And what else can you think of that costs 50% less today than it did in 1958?

Today, to assure maximum efficiency from every new electric heat installation, Public Service Company is helping building contractors from all over Northern Illinois supervise construction from the outset. For more information, call your nearest Public Service Company office.

ritory. Negotiations on the new rates were initiated at the request of the commission.

In addition to the new Call-Pak Unlimited plan, the new tariffs include elimination of mileage charges on rural service, reduction in the one-time charge for color phones, introduction of a new two-line residence service and elimination of the one-time charge on the Bell Chime, a special telephone bell with a musical tone. If approved by the commission, color phone and Bell Chime reductions will be effective immediately; others would be effective Aug. 1.

Of special interest to Mokena telephone users is the proposal that calls for standardizing five minutes as the initial talking period for all metropolitan service calls and station-to-station coin calls with no increase in rates. There is now a three-minute initial talking period on all calls for which the initial charge is six to nine units, inclusive.

Edward H. Johnsen, local manager of Illinois Bell, said present classes of service remain in effect. Residence customers, however, can change to new service classifications. Savings can be realized by choosing one of the new services, depending on individual levels of telephone usage.

Here are details of the proposal:

All new is "Call-Pak Unlimited," an individual line, flat-rate service for residence customers. With this service, customers can call as often as they want and talk as long as they want to Chicago and Illinois suburbs within a 28-mile radius of downtown Chicago. The monthly charge would be $22.50, plus 10% federal tax.

Other Call-Pak offerings are for customers who do not call so frequently. Details may be obtained at the telephone office in Lockport or phone there 815-838-9981.

Zone rate charges for customers with four-party rural service will be eliminated. This means a monthly saving of from $1 to $1.50 for those customers who live more than one mile outside the base rate area and who now are paying a zone charge.

Eight-party rural customers could take advantage of this rate reduction and change to four-party service for about five cents a day added to their monthly bill, it was pointed out. This would mean improved service because there would be a maximum of only three other parties on the line instead of a possible seven.

No additional eight-party service will be offered after Aug. 1.

The $3.50 one-time charge on the bell chime, a special telephone bell with a musical tone, is eliminated.

The reduction in the charge for a regular or one-button color telephone is from $7.50 to $4.00. A similar $3.50 reduction applies to special types of color phones. The color charge for each additional phone also is reduced $5 to $4.

The new residence service, called the "Two Line Family Plan," is being offered at reduced rates. It would consist of two lines, each with its own telephone number, and equipment enabling the customer to pick up either line at any of his phones. The service also includes a "hold" feature on the first line.

Village Set

To Proceed

With Paving

As soon as plans for Orland Park street improvements are approved by the state highway department the village will be ready to proceed with the program.

There is not sufficient money on hand in motor fuel tax funds to meet the cost, it was explained by Village Attorney Raymond Pieper who conferred with state officials last week, but $22,000 will be available from that source and the village can advance the remainder of the sum needed from the general corporate fund with the provision that it will be reimbursed from the motor fuel tax. It is estimated that the street program will cost approximately $52,000.

The plans call for resurfacing 144th place from Beacon street to LaGrange road Beacon street from 144th to 145th place and 145th place from Beacon to West ave. Curb and gutter are to be installed on 145th place and on Beacon St.

A special census is being taken in the village and when it is completed it is expected that the amount of motor fuel tax money due the village will be increased substantially. The tax return amounts to about $5.50 per capita, it was stated.

Engineers Give Pointers To Make Boating Safer

Pleasure boaters and all operators of small craft should know navigation rules and exercise courtesy toward fellow boaters at all times, the Chicago Army Engineer District reminded as National Safe Boating Week June 28-July 4 was proclaimed by President Lyndon B. Johnson.

The Chicago District maintains the seven army engineer locks on the Illinois Waterway from Lockport to New LaGrange as well as the waterway itself, all of which are used by recreational boaters, especially during the summer months. The District also operates 27 locks on the Fox river in Wisconsin and keeps upharbors on Lake Winnebago at Stockbridge, Brotherton, Calumet and Fond du Lac.

Numerous boaters benefit from the 25 harbors maintained by the Chicago District along Lake Michigan shores in Wisconsin, Illinois and Indiana.

On the Fox river, flowing into Green Bay, the Chicago District keeps up a channel from DePere to Menasha and from Lake Winnebago to Lake Butte des Morts.

At many army engineer locks, the boater may reach from his craft to set off an installed signal to the lockmaster that he wishes to be locked thru. The device is located at the midpoint of the upper and lower guide walls leading to the lock. Red, amber and green traffic lights guide the operator, and the lockmaster also may signal with an airhorn.

Each craft should have suitable rings, kevels or timberheads for fastening mooring lines during lockage, the district reminded. The boat should have at least 50 feet of rope in good condition so that it may be moored safely during lockage, as lockwalls vary in height from eight to 40 feet. The operator should remain inside the cockpit when being locked thru, but the motor should be shut off. A life jacket should be worn when handling lines on deck, the engineers warned.

When there are high winds or waves, operators should use extreme caution in approaching a lock, it was pointed out. Fenders are required on the boat to prevent damage to the craft and to lockwalls. Old rope or old tires are excellent for this purpose.

"There isn't enough room on our waterways for the aquatic cowboy or the show-off," a district spokesman remarked. "Cause of many boating tragedies is disregard of rules of the water. An overloaded boat and poor seamanship frequently go together."

"Don't overpower your boat. Have due regard for weather and forecasts. Give fishermen a wide berth and slow down when passing beaches or anchorages. Do your part to see that safe boating maintains the status of being one of the most popular, relaxing and refreshingly enjoyable outdoor sports."

The District also suggested that each pleasure boat owner request the Courtesy Motorboat Examination and safety check offered by qualified members of the Coast Guard auxiliary. Such an inspection is free and should be made once a year. It is available at most yacht clubs and small boat harbors in the Chicago area. For other locations write to the Director of the nearest Coast Guard Auxiliary. Craft so inspected are given a special sticker which the Coast Guard and most states honor and will refrain from making any further inspection unless there is an obvious violation.

Weeds are usually the result of and not the cause of a poor lawn. The best way to keep them from getting established is to fertilize at least twice a year, never mow shorter than 1-1/2 inches, and to water to a 6-inch depth. These treatments will produce a thick, healthy turf which will prevent light from getting down to the weed seedlings.

If weeds do appear in the lawn it is best to get rid of them while they are still small. Once they get a good start, it doesn't take them long to crowd out the desirable grasses. When large weeds are removed, they leave bare areas that allow more weeds to grow.

Weeds can be removed from small lawns with a knife or weed digger. Chemical weed killers can be used in larger lawns. 2, 4-D will kill broad-leaved weeds such as dandelion and plantain. For more persistent broadleaf weeds, such as chickweed, knotweed, or creeping ivy, use 2, 4, 5-T or 2, 4, 5-TP.

Crabgrass can best be controlled by killing the seed as it germinates. Several good materials to do this job have been developed. Those which we have consistently found to give good results are Dacthal, Zytren, Trifluralin and calcium arsenate or lead arsenate. These materials are incorporated into the products you can buy from your garden supply stores. Look for the names on the label. Other promising materials are being tested. Crabgrass seed germinates in May. Apply pre-emergent controls now, but be sure to apply them carefully in accord with directions on the package.

DSMA (di-sodium methyl arsonate) and AMA (amine methyl arsonate) are post-emergent materials that destroy plants after they appear above ground. These compounds are most effective when plants are small. Much of the above information is included in the new University of Illinois publication "A Dozen Weeds in Your Lawn." Get your copy by writing Cooperative Extension Service, 6657 South St., Tinley Park or 201 North Dunton Ave., Arlington Heights.

Iris borers cause more damage to iris plants than any other pest. First symptoms of borers are tear stains and chewed leaf edges that appear on leaves in early spring. Irises later develop loose, rotted bases and holes in rhizomes.

Spray or dust your iris now to control this pest. Use DDT and treat every ten days until Memorial Day. In fall remove and burn all dead leaves and trash on which the adult borer moth might lay eggs.

The effectiveness of grass sods in controlling erosion has long been recognized. The aboveground portions of the grass blanket the soil, the grass blades have a "shingling" effect, and the dense, fibrous root system holds the surface layers of soil in place. The value of grasses in resisting erosion from runoff water has been demonstrated at many soil conservation experiment stations. The following data, which was taken on eight to nine percent slopes at the Dixon Springs Experiment Station shows the difference in amounts of soil lost per acre for each inch of rainfall on land in grass compared with corn, wheat, and lespedeza: corn 1444 pounds; wheat 929 pounds; lespedeza 154 pounds; pastures six pounds.

The ideal waterway grass should possess the following qualities: (1) ability to form a dense sod (2) ability to establish itself quickly (3) adaptation to a wide range of soil and moisture conditions (4) resistance to trampling by livestock and travel of farm machinery. None of the grasses available to Illinois farmers fulfill all of these requirements. Several, however, give very satisfactory service under conditions to which they are adapted. To get best results, it is often advisable to use mixtures of grasses. Some of the grasses in the mixture may provide temporary protection while others are becoming established. Following is a description of the common grasses used in Illinois with a summary of their qualities as waterway grasses.

BLUEGRASS. Where soil fertility is fairly high and moisture is adequate, bluegrass is very satisfactory for waterway use. It should not be seeded alone because it takes too long to establish a good sod. Where conditions are favorable, it should also not be included in seed mixtures, as it will establish itself and gradually take over the stand. Because of its shallow root system, bluegrass may be damaged when exposed to runoff at high velocity. It is also subject to damage from trampling by livestock and travel of farm machinery, particularly in wet weather. Repairs to bluegrass waterways can, however, be made rather easily by patching with pieces of sod.

TIMOTHY. This grass establishes itself rather quickly, but because of its shallow root system it does not form a dense enough sod when used alone. It also tends to be rather short lived. For these reasons it should be used in mixtures, where usually it will gradually be replaced in the stand by other grasses.

REDTOP. Usually used in mixtures, redtop is especially good to use where drainage is poor and fertility is low. It is frequently seeded with timothy. This mixture establishes itself rather quickly, but where conditions are favorable it will gradually be replaced by bluegrass.

TALL FESCUE. Adapted to a wide range of conditions, tall fescue is one of our most useful waterway grasses. It establishes itself quickly, producing a dense growth with a very heavy root system. As a result it is not easily damaged by trampling of livestock and travel of farm machinery even in wet weather. Because of the relative stiffness of the top growth, it "shingles" well and recovers well after heavy runoff in the waterway.

Park Caretaker Finds Lost But Not The Losers

A tip to parents.

Are you one of those parents whose offsprings are forever losing something—a cap, a hat perhaps, a shirt, jacket, shoes or some other article of apparel?

And when you ask how did they lose it, or where did they lose it, do you get a blank look, or a mute, bewildered shake of the head denying all knowledge of the subject?

Well, if your youngsters have lost some of their wearables there is a chance you can recover them—that is, if your darlings have been participating in the recreation program now in progress at Mokena Community park.

Charles Schuldt, park caretaker, reports that scarcely a day goes by but that he picks up something in the apparel line that was dropped, laid aside and then forgotten by the young owners.

He keeps these things in his car for two or three days on the remote chance that the loser may ask him if he has found a scarf, or a sweater, or something of the sort.

Schuldt knows, from his experience over the past several years, that it is not likely that he will be approached but there is always the chance, so he keeps the things close at hand just in case.

Then he takes them to his home and that presents Mrs. Schuldt with a problem—storing the things.

The Schuldts reside at 11045 McGovney st., and they would appreciate it if parents whose youngsters have lost things would call around and see if they can locate them in their collection of lost items.

But the kids aren't the only ones who forget things at the park. A couple of years ago Schuldt brought home a bathroom scale that he found in the park. Inquiry brought to light that the scale had been taken there by a woman. She was one of a group of women that took exercises in the park as part of reducing project and had forgotten the scale.

The scale was restored to the owner but there was no report on whether any pounds had been lost.
